

John Muir Correspondence (PDFs)

---

1914-05-26

Letter from John Muir to [Melville B. Anderson], 1914 May 26.

John Muir

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence>

---

Recommended Citation

Muir, John, "Letter from John Muir to [Melville B. Anderson], 1914 May 26." (1914). John Muir Correspondence (PDFs). 6548.

<https://scholarlycommons.pacific.edu/muir-correspondence/6548>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by Scholarly Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in John Muir Correspondence (PDFs) by an authorized administrator of Scholarly Commons. For more information, please contact mgibney@pacific.edu.

Martinez May 26, 1914.

Dear Dante, how goes the sky song?
You must be busy judging by your letter silence, and so doubtless you are judging and guessing at me.

You been lost in Alaska all winter tracing old wanderings and trying to make something like a book of them.

Mr Parsons, one of the most active and useful of the Sierra Club members died suddenly heart dilation a few days ago - a great loss. And in these last fog-and drizzle days I took a little more cold. When these trouble clouds lift we must try to find a way to the mountain woods for fresh healing air. Send a few lines to tell how you prosper. and believe me however silent. ever Yours
Faithfully

John Muir